LAHARANDOTA ~ The Artists' Cottage, an old stone farmhouse previously owned by an American painter, Frank Russell, now fully renovated to include slate floors, old beams and stone walls. Set in over an acre of land and adjoined by fields with extensive views over the sea and Mizen Head peninsula. Ideal for those looking for a relaxing holiday or weekend retreat, for walkers/cyclists or families, offering a large garden, stream, pond and small outdoor pool. Located 4 miles west of local village Kilcrohane, and a scenic half-hour drive from the busy market town of Bantry with its great restaurants and pubs. Stroll down the lane from Laharandota directly on to the Sheep's Head Way, one of Ireland's 31 Waymarked Ways (marked trails). The peninsula's natural wild beauty makes its 55-mile trail stand out from others and offers an exciting challenge for all keen walkers. If, however, you're not a 'wild rover', there's always riding, sailing, kayaking, diving, golf...

Laharandota has been thoughtfully restored from an existing farm complex, comprising a detached Cottage, stone outbuilding with utilities, an old stone loft/barn (the Studio) and a greenhouse/wood store, enjoying spectacular views over Dunmanus Bay and the West Cork countryside. Many original features have been retained to create a unique and peaceful atmosphere which complements the surrounding land and sea. The Cottage and Studio are nestled on the hillside, surrounded by a large, private garden with wonderful sea views. The garden features a stream, pond and small outdoor pool (solar panel heated), stone corral with seating and barbeque/patio area equipped with garden furniture. Inside there are a total of four bedrooms (2 kings, a twin and a single), a family bathroom, 3 en suite shower rooms, open-plan kitchen/living areas, 2 sunrooms, study with sofa bed and a twin day bed.

The Cottage has three bedrooms (a king, a twin and a single), downstairs loo, family bathroom with slipper bath and en suite shower room to the master bedroom. There is an open-plan kitchen/lounge area, study with sofa bed and sun room with sea views. The Cottage features a lounge with open fire and PC for guest use, as well as wireless Internet throughout. It is possible to hire the Cottage only or combine with rental of the separate Studio building.

The Studio is a self-contained unit next to the Cottage, which includes a small open-plan kitchen/lounge area with adjacent sun room, both with sea views. The sun room has a small dining area, its own en suite and iron day bed with trundle (to form a king or twin beds). Upstairs comprises a king bedroom with sea views, en suite shower room and separate access to the back garden.
